

Square State Solid State and Macy Sound Studios invite you to a listening party!

Come test drive Square State Solid State's new Model One B Equalizer - a three band inductor based EQ that marries vintage analog filters with modern circuit topology. Made right here in the Rocky Mountain state the Model One B is a surprisingly affordable analog tool for your studio.

Macy Sound Studios is one of Denver's premier recording studios and features some great vintage gear as well as a large tracking room with a Grand Piano. Past clients include Los Lobos, The Flobots, Twice Wilted, Leftover Salmon and many more regional and national artists.

We encourage engineers, musicians and producers alike to bring their own source material - raw tracks, loops, samples, etc. to run through the Model One B equalizers. We'll have two listening stations set up with a pair in each room. In addition light snacks and refreshments will be provided in the common areas. This is a great chance to experiment with some new gear while checking out a world-class studio and mingling with peers!

When: Sunday, September 12th, 3-6 PM

Where: Macy Sound Studios
